DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 12-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The evidence provided for 09/112219, of which this application is a continuation, in the Declaration under Rule 132 by Kazufumi Ogawa and the Declaration under Rule 132 by Midori Takano demonstrates that by coating a glass substrate having an indium-tin oxide alloy film with the product formed by dissolving 1 weight percent $\text{Cl}-(\text{SiCl}_2\text{O}_2)_2-\text{SiCl}_3$ in chloroform solvent, a silicon oxide film is formed on the glass substrate. It is noted, however, that the present specification teaches that contacting a substrate with a solvent comprising a material comprising chlorosilyl groups, such as $\text{Cl}-(\text{SiCl}_2\text{O}_2)_2-\text{SiCl}_3$, results in a siloxane film, rather than a silicon oxide film, on the substrate.

In view of the evidence discussed above, it appears that the present specification does not teach how to make a siloxane film on a substrate as presently claimed.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 37 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- a) Claim 37: "number of a group" does not make sense.
